SLHD Privacy Contact Officer has continued to provide legislative, policy and compliance support/advice to health service staff, particularly in relation to access to, and disclosure of personal health information and electronic medical records.

The Privacy Contact Officer actively participates in privacy networking and professional development, and attended privacy information and network sessions during 2017-18 which were facilitated by the NSW Ministry of Health Regulation and Compliance Unit.

Privacy complaints

Complaints may either be addressed as informal complaints, handled through existing complaints handling and investigation processes.

Alternatively, a complaint may be handled formally under privacy law via the internal review process, in accordance with the NSW privacy legislation and the NSW Health Privacy Internal Review Guidelines.

Actions have been undertaken by Sydney Local Health District as appropriate resulting from these complaints, including review of policies and practices, staff training and disciplinary action.

Part 2. Internal review

The Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1998 provides a formalised structure for managing privacy complaints relating to this Act and to the Health Records and Information Privacy Act 2002. This process is known as 'internal review'.
